As police step up high visibility patrols and urge parents to warn children of stranger danger . . .

DID YOU WITNESS ATTEMPT TO SNATCH GIRL?

POLICE this week issued an appeal to two people they think may have witnessed an attempt to abduct a young girl while she was playing with friends in the front garden of a house.

Detectives investigating the incident in Broomfield, Harlow, on the afternoon of Sunday, April 1 believe a cyclist and a jogger who were in the area at the time could have seen what happened.

They also want to talk to a dog walker who they believe may have witnessed two girls being approached by a man in Kiln Lane, Harlow, a few weeks earlier.

As the Star reported last week, the incident in Broomfield involved a five-year-old girl who was grabbed by the arm by a stranger who is believed to have got out of a white Transit-style van. He only let go of the girl when her older sister appeared.

Police have since re-examined earlier reports of young girls being approached in Kiln Lane, Westbury Rise and The Stow in late-February and re-interviewed the children involved in a bid to identify potential links between each case.

Senior investigating officer DCI Lucy Robinson told the Star this week: "We are still looking to see if the incidents with white vans are linked."

"We have re-interviewed the children in order to ascertain any common factors and identify any misinterpretations of events."

"We are focusing on identifying witnesses to the Broomfield incident as well as the one on Kiln Lane, which happened on Saturday, February 25.

"Dog walkers, cyclists and joggers all hold the key and we would ask them to try and recall seeing any white vans on these roads."

Parents have been warned to keep a close eye on their children throughout the Easter break, while police have stepped up high-visibility patrols across the town in a bid to identify potential offenders and provide reassur-

Relatives' distress at cemetery thefts

DISTRAUGHT families have spoken of their disgust following a spate of thefts from graves at Parndon Wood Cemetery.

A number of people visiting their relatives' resting places have found objects including vases, ornaments and lanterns missing.

The thefts have been highlighted on the social networking site Facebook and have even included figurines and toys taken from the children's cemetery.

Jennifer Steadman, of Watlington Road, said her recently widowed mother was devastated to find her father's grave had been targeted last week.

"We had left a handpainted vase inscribed with my Dad's name on his resting place," she said. "But when my mum visited last week it was gone."

"She was totally distraught and shocked at the levels to which some people will stoop."

Jennifer, who lost her baby son Ben 25 years ago, said his grave has been damaged on a number of occasions.

"Nowhere and nothing is sacred up there," she said. "It's a really sad situation. His old toys have been taken, figurines bought for him by his brothers, wreaths and even teddy bears."

"Fortunately there hasn't been anything of particular monetary worth as I know of some people who have had things like marble cherubs and large stone figurines stolen. But it is the sentimental value; it is quite obvious that a teddy bear and toys left on a grave is for a child so for someone to be callous enough to take that is despicable.

"People just don't care and certainly don't stop to think of the sadness and the pain they are inflicting on others who feel physically violated by the thefts."

"I feel very strongly about this, but sadly I know that there is not a great deal that the crematorium owners or council can do. Hopefully by just raising awareness of the problem the community on a whole can work together to catch these lowlifes."

While discussing the issue on the Facebook group, at least five other people reported thefts of items from graves.

Richard Evans, managing director for service operators Westleigh Group, said he was aware there had been problems in the past.

"I have checked with the managers on site and they said they had not received any recent reports of grave thefts," he said. "We would of course be very concerned if this is the case and would urge people to let us know so we can address the problem."

"We know this has been an issue in the past and now have staff on site six days a week with out of hours security making visits throughout the night to try and stop it."

Chocolate eggs put smiles on the faces of hospital children

CARTOON favourite Bugs Bunny hopped along to Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital to hand out chocolate eggs.

Bugs joined members of local charity Kisses4Kids, which purchased the Easter treats from funds raised through their annual aluminium can collection scheme.

Among those present was charity founder Stacey Johnson, who has received treatment at the hospital for a brain tumour. "It was a really good morning and the kids were really pleased to see Bugs Bunny," said Stacey's mum and charity trustee Sharon Johnson.

"The hospital was absolutely inundated with chocolate eggs and Bugs made sure no-one missed out. Doctors, nurses and even people visiting the A&E department got some chocolate, as well as all the patients of course."

PAH play specialist Rachel Naunton said: "We are grateful to Stacey and the Kisses4Kids team for all the fundraising and donations made over the years."

"Easter is a very child orientated holiday and is not the best time for kids to be in Hospital, but Stacey certainly cheered up our young patients with the amount of eggs and gifts she brought in."

Meanwhile, chocolate eggs were also donated to the children's ward by staff at the 3 Store in the Harvey Centre.

Assistant manager Michael Rampling said: "We have never done anything like this before but just thought it would be nice to help children staying at the hospital over Easter have a slightly more pleasurable stay."

"Everyone really enjoyed meeting the kids and it is definitely something we will look at doing annually."

ance for worried families. DCI Robinson added: "We are continuing to remind parents to be mindful of exactly where their children are playing and to contact us immediately if they notice any suspicious behaviour, especially if a white Ford Transit-style van is involved. "Furthermore, parents are being asked to remind their children about the dangers of speaking or interacting with strangers."

Anyone with information in connection with the abduction attempts is urged to contact detectives on Harlow's Major Investigation Team on 101. Anyone with immediate concerns about suspicious activity should dial 999.

Verge a magnet for takeaway litterbugs

SIR, Brian Walker suggests that KFC should clear up litter dumped in the car park in Edinburgh Way (Letters, March 29). It is perhaps a little-known fact, but if people buy takeaways from McDonalds or Burger King, also in Edinburgh Way, and drive towards Sawbridgeworth they almost always finish them just in time to dump the remains on the grass verge opposite my house.

Two weeks ago we had our first delivery of KFC wrappings. Greggs litter is less common, presumably because their shop is nearer to Sawbridgeworth and maybe their now famous pasties take longer to devour. Could it be that there is some additive in the takeaways which makes people deranged so that they imagine our verge is a rubbish tip? Anyway, I wonder if these outlets would consider sponsoring our verge and the clearing up which I and my neighbours do on their behalf?

Daughters' 18-year wait on council housing list

SIR, I am writing in response to the letters from Clare Harrison and Mrs A. Davison regarding the housing situation in Harlow.

My parents moved to Harlow in 1954 so my daughters are third generation. Both have been on the housing list since 1994 without any hope. My youngest has now moved out of the town.

It is true what Mrs Davison says regarding single mothers. I had a friend whose two children, both with babies, deliberately told the council they were homeless and were given accommodation after just a few months on the list, despite the fact that her daughter lived with her and her son and girlfriend lived with the girl's parents.

The housing band list is an absolute farce. My mother had to move into residential care last year and gave up her council house. Soon after there was a new tenant in there, yet mum's house had never even been on the list. So how was it re-allocated?

Mrs G. Johnson
Tithelands, Harlow

Pensioners got very little from Labour

SIR, As a pensioner herself, Cllr Jean Clark (Letters, April 5) ought to know that when her party was in power pensioners like my wife got a measly 50p increase, so I welcome the Government's £5.30 rise.

I don't remember Cllr Clark writing to the Star to complain. Of course not, it was Labour that did the dirty on our community's most vulnerable residents. Her loyalty to Labour took precedence over her loyalty to the working classes that she claims to care about.

I'm working class. I was brought up by my grandparents, left school with no qualifications and earned my living by plumbing and cleaning out drains. I had to work hard for everything I've got. I struggled to support my wife and family but through hard graft I managed.

One thing I've learned is that Labour aren't interested in working class people like me. Only the Conservatives have given me the breaks to make my life better.

Andy Shannon
Conservative candidate, Bush Fair

No granny tax and no tax on grannies

SIR, It is necessary to dispose of another piece of scaremongering by our opponents who are not ashamed to spread false alarms among pensioners and other vulnerable members of the community by means of slick soundbites and rumours.

It's a spin doctor's dream to coin such a phrase as 'granny tax' but in fact there is no such tax. The truth is pensioners on low incomes will not have money taken from them, they will simply have a slightly slower rate of increase of their tax-free personal allowance over the next three years until the rest of the population catches up with them so that everyone will have the same personal allowance of £10,500 before any tax is assessed.

THIS photograph of a host a golden daffodils in Gilden Way, Harlow, was taken by Star reader Rob Bright.

Do you have a photograph taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section? If so, we would love to see it. Email a high resolution copy in jpeg format – along with a brief description of when and where it was taken and your name and address – to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

Any pensioner who receives only the State pension does not and will not pay any tax. There is no 'granny tax' and there is no tax on grannies.

Pensioners will still be better off than the rest because of the increase in the state pension. From April 1 state pensions increased by £5.30 a week, the biggest increase since 1948. In addition, pensioners will still retain winter fuel payments, free bus passes, free NHS prescriptions, free TV licences for over 75s and, in many cases, free cavity wall and loft insulation where applicable.

In fact, everyone over the age of 60 will receive the first three even before they receive their state pension at 65, so it's good news for pensioners, even the younger ones.

It's definitely not a "granny tax" but now that Labour have got this idea they could easily get it into their heads to impose one if they were ever to get into power again and find themselves short of funds.

After all, the Labour government was expert in creating new stealth taxes.

Joshua Jolles
Conservative candidate, Great Parndon

Let's get back to the basics of democracy

SIR, On May 3 we shall be voting to elect councillors to represent us. Recent and past events should serve as a wake-up call for all political parties and residents.

The election of George Galloway to represent Bradford West in Parliament is one such event. It appears voters have lost the respect for the main political parties and not without reason.

In a democratic governance situation, elected members should be listening to and representing the views of those who put them in the corridors of power. We seem to have lost the real meaning of democracy and elected members appear to apply petty political policies in the way governance is implemented.

In a public company where there are shareholders, the latter appoint directors to oversee the running of the company/enterprise. The employees of the company are responsible to the directors, and the directors are responsible to the shareholders. This is a well-defined method of running a company. The shareholders effectively own the company.

In local/national government, the authority is 'owned' by the residents who are the stakeholders. The residents elect councillors (directors) to oversee the governance (management) of the council (state, on the national level). Council (or state) employees are responsible to the councillors who, in turn, are responsible to the people who elected them into office.

We seem to have a blurred responsibility in modern governance. Employees sometimes appear to think they are in charge of running the town and most councillors seem happy with this situation. Councillors often forget they are ultimately responsible to the residents. No wonder people appear to adopt a negative view of political parties and politicians.

My appeal to all and sundry at the present moment of political activity is that we should go back to basic democracy which caters for the people in every respect. The focus, with respect to the decision processes, should always be centred on the residents.

Manny Doku
Labour candidate, Bush Fair

Working families will be better off

SIR, Someone once said if you keep repeating a big enough lie for long enough people will come to believe it. It is also said there are lies, damn lies and statistics.

So on what basis is Cllr Rod Tuan (Letters, April 5) repeating the assertion of Labour's Shadow Chancellor Ed Balls and parliamentary candidate Suzy Stride that every Harlow family with children and on an income over £20,000 will lose £253 a year as a result of the budget?

It is perfectly clear from all independent sources that working families with children will be better off this year and next year by between £305 and £797.

So if Cllr Tuan would like to show what independent evidence there is for this Labour statistic we will all know whether this is just a lie, a damn lie or a lie they hope people will come to believe.

Councillor Tony Hall (Conservative)
Kingsdon Lane, Harlow

Why no concessions for older spectators?

SIR, I recently travelled to Enfield to watch Enfield play Harlow Town in a Ryman League match which only cost me £5 to watch as I am a pensioner.

The following afternoon I went to watch my son's team in a cup final at Harlow Town's stadium, only to find I had to pay £7 to watch two Sunday morning park teams play as there was no concession for pensioners.

What a rip off. They must have made a fortune with all the food and drink they sold as well. I think they should relook at their prices.

Brian Walker

Dawn of a new era for museum service

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW'S museum service was relaunched under new ownership this week after being handed over to local educational group Science Alive.

The voluntary organisation took control on April 1 after cash-strapped Harlow Council offloaded five of its seven discretionary services to new providers in a drive to cut costs.

Science Alive was the sole bidder to take over the running of the museum and on Tuesday staff and volunteers officially opened the service's new home inside Harlow Leisurezone.

Billed as a space "where science meets history", the Time Machine gallery will display a rotating collection of artefacts and items of historical interest from the council's own archives, which will remain in situ at the museum's former premises in Muskham Road.

Entry to the museum is included in the normal Science Alive admission charge.

Science Alive chief executive Jon O'Connor said his group was "excited" to be taking on the service and committed to securing its long-term future.

"Taking on the responsibility for maintaining and developing the museum service in a new form is an exciting challenge for Science Alive," he said.

"We know how much this means to many Harlow residents and we've worked very hard with the council over the past six months to plan our approach to the new service.

"We'll be running a full programme of talks, lectures and workshops which we hope will appeal to all those interested in the heritage of Harlow and history in general."

Conservation work will continue at the museum's former Mark Hall site, which Mr O'Connor said would soon reopen to the public three days a week to provide access to the local Essex Records collection.

He added: "We'll be announcing further plans and ideas for the service and inviting members of the local community to support our work in the coming weeks and months."

Science Alive is open Monday to Friday from 10am-4.30pm and 10am-1pm on Saturdays. Admission costs £4 (£3 children/£10 family ticket).

X Factor pop duo support growing band of Race for Life fundraisers

HARLOW'S Race for Life has been given some X Factor sparkle after organisers enlisted the help of last year's finalists 2 Shoes to encourage more women to sign up for the event.

Essex pop duo Charley Bird and Lucy Texeria are urging women to join the fight against cancer by taking part in the annual fundraiser around Harlow Town Park on Sunday, May 20.

Charley and Lucy, who are hoping to release their debut album in the summer, became a household name when they were picked by group mentor and judge Tulisa Contostavlos to go through to the live show stage.

"We are honoured to be a part of Race For Life this year in Essex," they told the Star. "This event is really important to us and we want to help raise as much sponsorship money as possible to help fund Cancer Research UK's countryside scientists, doctors and nurses."

Organisers of the Star-backed Harlow race are hoping to persuade more than 2,800 women of all ages, shapes and ability to sign up and raise £190,000 towards cancer research. You can choose to walk, jog or run either a 5k or 10k route. Entry costs £14.99 for adults and £10 for under-16s.

To register for the Harlow Race for Life visit www.raceforlife.org or call 0871 641 1111.

Runners go the extra mile to help charities

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WITH just 10 days to go until the London Marathon, runners from Harlow are putting in the extra miles to ensure they reach their fundraising targets.

Andy Smith (30), who will be running in aid of Macmillan Cancer Support, has teamed up with friend and fellow marathon runner Keith Borgars (31), to put on a two-day charity gig at The Square.

"It is the first and last time I will ever do the London Marathon," said Andy, of Mark Hall Moors.

"It is something I have always wanted to take part in and felt that my 30th year was a good time to do it before I got too old or had other responsibilities like children.

"It has been a tough few months but I know it will be worth it for the personal achievement. I am also really pleased to be raising money for Macmillan Cancer Support as I know from the help they have provided to people close to me what a fantastic charity they are."

The two-day charity gig is taking place on Friday and Saturday night and will feature a number of acts including Arcadian, The Brights, Billy Lunn, The Bibelots, The Feelmores and Kebab Shop Blues.

Tickets can be purchased on the door for £7 each (£6 for members) or a weekend pass can be bought for £10. For more information, call Andy on 07734660634.

Meanwhile, personal trainer Jared Bethal (28) is hosting a charity quiz night to help him reach his £2,000 target.

Jared, who lives in Sawbridgeworth and works at the Paringdon Sports

Club in Harlow, plans to split the money between the NSPCC and St Clare Hospice, two organisations he says are very close to his heart.

"I've had a few family members and friends benefit from the care and treatment provided by St Clare and have always thought they do a brilliant job," he explained.

"I also know people who have benefited from the work of the NSPCC and, as my sister-in-law works for them, hear only too often about the horrendous cases they are dealing with on a day-to-day basis."

Setting the goalposts high, Jared said he hopes to complete his third London Marathon in under three hours.

"I am feeling pretty confident and as long as I stay injury-free think it should be ok," he added.

Jared's charity quiz night is being held at Paringdon Sports Club on Friday, April 20, starting at 7.30pm. Team entry costs £8 with a maximum of 10 people allowed per group. To reserve a place, call the club on (01279) 418411 or email

Kelly@paringdonsports.com.

Charity shop in need of helpers

STAFF at a charity shop in Harlow have made an urgent plea to anyone with a few hours to spare to join them as a volunteer.

The St Elizabeth's shop at Staple Tye desperately needs to recruit more helpers to carry out a number of jobs around the store which raises money for the charity's centre in Much Hadham.

"Anyone over the age of 16 looking for something to do in their spare time would be extremely welcome as a volunteer here," said co-manager Sarah Patterson. "It doesn't matter if they haven't had any previous experience as there are many different roles and jobs available ranging from till work to sorting out stock."

"It is a fantastic way for people to get some work experience and increase their skill base whilst also helping the charity's work helping those suffering with epilepsy and complex learning difficulties."

For more information, contact Sarah on (01279) 424651.

Pair team up to hold Zumbathon

A WOMAN who helps local cancer patients feel good about themselves is hosting a fundraising two-hour Zumbathon.

Beauty and holistic therapist Pauly Chaplin, from Sawbridgeworth, has teamed up with Zumba instructor Nikki Bentley to raise money for local charity Fabulous And Beautiful which arranges beauty treatments for people suffering from cancer.

The pair, who were forced to postpone the original event in February because of heavy snowfall, will also donate half the funds raised towards breast cancer clinical trials unit at Princess Alexandra and St Margaret's Hospital in Epping.

"I was gutted when the heavy snow meant we had to postpone the last Zumbathon event, but nothing's going to stop this one," said Pauly.

"I'm determined we're going to raise money for the breast unit and FAB while at the same time having fun and getting fit."

The Zumbathon takes place from 10am on Sunday at Sawbridgeworth Memorial Hall in The Forebury. For tickets or more information, contact Pauly on 07970 549988.

Caring Saskia walks 20 miles to raise cash for cancer fund

AN inspirational teenager with autism spent over eight hours walking more than 20 miles to raise money for charity in memory of her beloved grandfather.

Saskia Burnett (16), pictured right, who also suffers with dyspraxia, organised the fundraiser in aid of The Head and Neck Cancer Fund at Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge where her grandfather, Graham Hutchinson, was treated last year.

"Saskia and her grandad were like two peas in a pod, they were extremely close," said Saskia's mother Suzanne, of The Ridgeways, Harlow. "But after bravely fighting eight sorts of cancers in the final years of his life, he sadly died last November."

"During his last battle he had to have his entire voice box removed at Addenbrooke's which, along with the care he received from doctors there, gave us the chance to spend extra precious months with him which we are all grateful for.

"It was because of this that Saskia woke up one day and decided that she wanted to give something back."

A student at The Endeavour School in Brentwood, Saskia is a keen fundraiser who has already raised more than £1,000 for charity.

"Saskia has an absolute heart of gold and just loves doing things for other people," said Suzanne. "She makes me burst with pride and I know my father would, too." Following a route around Church Langley, Saskia completed the walk during the first week of her Easter holiday. She raised more than £400 in sponsorship for the hospital fund.

"I was scared about it at first but then excited," she said. "I know my grandad would be really proud of me."

Don't miss deadline for jubilee street parties

PARTY organisers have until the end of the month to apply for road closures if they are planning to hold a street celebration to mark the Queen's diamond jubilee.

With less than two months to go until the big weekend in June, Essex County Council is reminding residents to submit their applications before May 1.

The authority has published an online guide to organising events over the extended bank holiday weekend on its website. It also includes recipes, a bunting template and information on how to promote your party.

County council leader Peter

Martin said: "This is definitely a year for celebration and the diamond jubilee is a momentous occasion. A street party is a great way to celebrate and get the whole community involved."

Pirates romp is Richard's labour of love

FAMILY VIEWING:

Aardman animator Richard Haynes, centre back, with family and friends at Harlow Cineworld for a screening of The Pirates! In An Adventure With Scientists

(photo: HAR0818545)

BRITISH animation studio Aardman's latest stop-motion masterpiece The Pirates! In An Adventure With Scientists is proving to be another smash hit at the box office – but few viewers will realise just how much work went into producing each scene.

The film took a staggering five years to make. And according to Harlow-born animator Richard Haynes, who has worked for the Bristol-based studio for almost three years, the painstaking production process yielded a mere six seconds of footage per week.

But despite the labour-intensive shooting schedule, the former Brays Grove student – who returned to the town on Saturday to watch the film with his family – said the 18 months he spent working on the rip-roaring adventure had been the most enjoyable of his career.

"I'm very fortunate to be doing a job I love," he said. "Even though a huge amount of time and effort goes into each second of footage, you don't think about how slowly things are progressing. You just get completely absorbed in the creative process."

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Each foot-high puppet used in the film had to be repositioned up to 24 times per second of footage to create the illusion of near-seamless movement, with 33 animators working flat-out to piece together the 88-minute movie – the first of its kind to be shot in 3D.

"As it's the closest animation gets to live action it's important to make each puppet's movement and personality as seamless and believable as possible, especially when the film's being shot in high-definition 3D," Richard explained.

"For that reason the voiceovers are done first, which gives the animators the chance to try and capture the quirks and mannerisms of each voice actor in their on-screen characters."

"It is rewarding to be able to watch the end product, although I must admit I found myself instinctively over-analysing each scene and thinking about how it could be improved rather than just relaxing and enjoying the film!"

Richard, whose parents Keith and Marilyn still live in Pear Tree Mead, said his love of stop-motion animation came from watching Wind In The Willows as a child – and firmly believes the art form has a bright future.

"One of my fondest memories as a child was when my Nan bought me a tape of Wind In The Willows," he said. "That's when it all started for me."

"A lot of people have written off stop-motion as a dying art, but it's got this raw, earthy quality that will always set it apart from computer-generated animation. It's got plenty of life in it yet!"

Splashing time was had by all!

APRIL showers failed to dampen the spirits of hundreds of visitors who enjoyed an Easter fun day at Pets' Corner on Monday.

The rain failed to stop play as youngsters enjoyed donkey and tractor rides, took part in an Easter bonnet parade and tried to guess the weight of celebrity pig Mr Darcy, the petting zoo's newest arrival and former star of The Only Way Is Essex.

Other entertainment included a bouncy castle, arts and craft stalls and a raffle, while members of Essex Falconry gave visitors the chance to handle a bird of prey.

Vicky Monk, of Friends of Pets' Corner, said: "It could have turned out to be a bad day because of the terrible weather, but thanks to the wonderful public support it was a huge success.

"Places for everyone to set up their stalls had to be found but everyone eventually managed to find somewhere fairly dry!

"We'd like to say a big thank you to the stallholders, staff, volunteers and Friends of Pets Corner, not to mention everyone who braved the rain to attend and the local businesses who donated our raffle prizes."

A number of raffle prizes have yet to be claimed. To find out if you have a winning ticket, contact Pets' Corner on (01279) 422790.

Public Consultation Sessions for Fieldes Lock Power Station Development

Find out more about Veolia's revised plans for the proposed Fieldes Lock Power Station on land off Ratty's Lane, Hoddesdon. Following the first phase of public consultation on our initial proposal at the end of 2011, we have reviewed all the feedback received and taken this into account in the development of a revised proposal which is now ready for a second phase of public consultation.

We propose to make an application for consent to build Fieldes Lock Power Station to the Secretary of State (via the National Infrastructure Directorate of the Planning Inspectorate which recently replaced the Infrastructure Planning Commission (IPC)) in Summer 2012. Our consultation activities form an important part of the application process.

Fieldes Lock Power Station will create enough energy to power 96,000 Hertfordshire homes a year - the equivalent of over twice the number of homes in Broxbourne Borough today. The Facility will also create 300 construction and 45 permanent jobs.

Public information events

At the public information events you will be able to view our revised proposal and preliminary environmental information, speak to members of the project team and leave us your comments.

Documents for review

Our proposal constitutes an EIA development for the purposes of the Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2009. Therefore, we have made Preliminary Environmental Information (PEI) available.

Copies of the PEI and details of our revised proposal can also be viewed from 16 April 2012 to 18 May 2012 online at www.veoliaenvironmentalservices.co.uk/fieldes-lock, and in hard copy during normal opening hours at: Hoddesdon Library, Broxbourne Borough Council offices, Broxbourne Borough Council One Stop Shop, Hertfordshire County Council offices, Harlow Central Library and Epping Forest District Council offices.

Easter fun in town centre

SHOPPERS in Harlow town centre at the weekend were treated to a feast of Easter entertainment.

In the Harvey Centre there was a chance to meet a real Easter Bunny and some of his more exotic friends from Paradise Wildlife Park in Broxbourne, while chocoholics searched high and low for treasure in an Easter egg hunt organised by confectionery store Thorntons.

Youngsters also got the chance to make Easter-themed masks with help from the team at the Makeanddo Workshop.

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said: "It was great to see families enjoy their bunny hunt and lovely to watch the children enjoy the return of Paradise Wildlife Park's baby animals."

Shoppers visiting the Water Gardens on Friday and Saturday were treated to street entertainment from jugglers, magicians and stilt-walkers. There was even a special performance from a dancing Easter egg!

Motorists test-driving the complex's new pay-on-route car parking system had the chance to win on-the-spot prizes, while Heart FM's Winning Whirlwind gave people the chance to grab free shopping vouchers inside a sealed wind tunnel.

Centre manager Beryl Murphy said: "It was fantastic to see so many families enjoying themselves."

"There was an excellent atmosphere throughout the centre with all of the entertainment, and some of our retailers reported an excellent trading day on Good Friday."

"We would like to thank our customers for 'driving in' over Easter and again for their continued patience and support."

More on the Mitchellaires

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

POPULAR local 1950s group The Mitchellaires continue to raise smiles – even though it has been many years since they last performed together.

A couple of weeks ago Nostalgia featured a piece about the band after Michael Caswell sent in this photo in which his father, Phil, can be seen at the front playing the banjo.

Michael said he thought the accordion was being played by a Mr Long while the man dressed in black was Bert Mortem. He was unsure about the other members.

However, the identities of the remaining musicians can now be revealed after their relatives got in touch.

Mrs E.M. Clarke, of Long Ley, said the gentleman playing the drums in the middle of the group was her late husband, Bill.++

“He died nearly three years ago but had also worked at Key Glass,” she explained. “The pianist was Don Mitchell, although I am not sure where he is now.”

Keith Long also got in touch to confirm his father Cyril's role with the group.

“I live in Dorset now so I hadn't seen the article until one of my sisters called me up to say Dad was in the paper,” he explained.

“It just so happened my son was travelling through Harlow at the time so he picked up a copy of the Star for me to see and the memories soon came flooding back.”

Keith said he believed the band took their name from pianist Don Mitchell.

“I can remember going with mum and my siblings as a child to watch the group perform on Saturday nights,” he said. “They were really good and everyone loved them.”

“Dad was fortunate to be similar to Michael's father Phil in that he was naturally musically gifted and could play a number of instruments. Sadly I didn't inherit that talent, and never followed in his footsteps.”

Keith thinks all the band members worked at Key Glass on similar shift patterns. “That's how they managed to work it out so they could play together,” he added. “They performed quite regularly.”

WERE you in Miss Grimway's class at Potter Street Primary School in the 1960s?

Michael, who also attended Potter Street as a young boy, said his sister thought it was taken around 1963 and could recall a number of familiar faces in the picture. However, there was one member of staff she never forgot.

“The one person Jean really recalled, and I believe most people would remember from those days, was the headmistress who I think was called Miss Cunningham,” said Michael.

“She was quite a character, - like a tall, more gangly Miss Trunchbull from Roald Dahl's Matilda! She seemed huge when you were a young primary school kid!

“She'd wear long dark dresses and bring her two Pekingese dogs into school with her and have them forever by her side. It was quite a sight.”

1987 25 years ago in the Star

Princess Diana charmed all who met her when she visited Epping to open Spencer Croft, the unit for people suffering from a mental illness. Looking stunning in a vibrant cherry red coat and dress, she arrived in style in a red helicopter

Audacious thieves stooped to a new low when they stole four metres of hose from a fire engine in Harlow. The incident, which happened near Honeyhill garages, occurred while firefighters using the vehicle dealt with a petrol spillage.

Harlow's pearly king and queen have voiced their disgust after a charity cockney evening attracted only seven people. The organisers of the event, which was held at the Four Province Club in Parsloe Road, had hoped to raise a lot of money for Princess Alexandra Hospital's scanner appeal. However a whip-round only raised £15.

A quick thinking 11-year-old foiled potential burglars when they tried to enter her family home in Harlow by pretending to be gas engineers. The youngster, who was on her own at the time, told the men her big brother was upstairs after becoming suspicious. The Gas Board later confirmed they had no employees working in the area at the time.

MY VIEW FROM WESTMINSTER

by Robert Halfon,
MP for Harlow

Our community will not surrender to these yobs

ONE of the worst telephone calls I have had as a new MP came a couple of weeks ago from my friend Zulqar Cheema of the Berecroft Residents' Association. He told me that the new youth shelter had been vandalised, smashed up and destroyed.

Zulqar was devastated. Over many months he, the residents' association, local PCSOs and even some Harlow businesses, had worked hard to transform a barren bit of land into a great place for local people, for children to play and for community events. I had attended on a number of occasions and saw PCSOs teaching kids the latest footballing tricks. Some of the Berecroft children had even produced artwork for it which was put on display at the Harvey Centre.

The Berecroft estate has already

MEETING: Robert Halfon with local residents, councillors and PCSOs suffered from terrible fires before. The building roofs have only recently been put right by Circle Anglia housing association. Zulqar asked me how it is that people can get away with this? He is right. Not only do we need to catch the yobs who did this but they need to be locked up and the key thrown away. There can be no excuse or justification for this kind of behaviour.

There is an old saying that all that it takes for evil to flourish is for good men to do nothing. So we need to do more than just catch the criminals.

We are lucky that Harlow is a strong community. All of us need to rally round and show Berecroft residents that we will not be defeated. In other words, we must do everything possible to ensure that the youth shelter is rebuilt but this time with crime-prevention measures such as CCTV and locked fencing.

For this reason, alongside Zulqar and Berecroft residents, I have launched a financial appeal. If just 3,000 people donate £1 each we could rebuild the youth club tomorrow. I have already had talks with Pitney Bowes, who supported the original scheme and they have pledged to help again this time.

Last Wednesday I also met with Berecroft residents, councillors and PCSOs. We are determined to pull together and make a real difference. This matters because if we don't stop this wanton destruction in one place it will spread to other areas. We must show criminals not just zero tolerance, but community strength as well.

If you want to support the appeal to rebuild the Berecroft youth shelter, please email me at hafon4harlow@roberthalfon.com, log onto <http://www.berecroft.co.uk> or send a cheque made out to the Berecroft Residents Association to 65 Berecroft, Harlow, Essex CM18 7SB.

BT ready to roll out its super-fast broadband

SUPER-FAST broadband will soon be available to thousands of homes and businesses in Harlow when BT's new fibre-optic service goes live later this month.

Openreach, the telecoms giant's local network branch, is set to complete the upgrade of its local broadband network in the coming weeks, opening the door for around 29,000 households to join its 'high-speed revolution'.

Using a mixture of fibre to the cabinet (FTTC) and fibre to the premises (FTTP) technologies, download speeds on the new service could reach up to 100 megabits per second – almost twenty times faster than the current UK average.

Customers on a FTTP connection could then see their download speeds boosted to an incredible 300 megabits per second from next spring, a shift that BT describes as "transformative" for local businesses.

Dave Hughes, BT's regional director for the East of England, said: "The arrival of super-fast broadband in Harlow is a huge boost for local households and businesses. These are economically challenging times and super-fast broadband can transform their experience of the internet.

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"Fast and reliable internet connections are an essential part of our national infrastructure, whether we want them for boosting our businesses, delivering essential public services, education online or entertainment at home."

According to BT, upload speeds on its upgraded network are the fastest in the UK and can deliver a major boost to the competitiveness of local businesses, offering new ways of working flexibly and allowing large data and video files to be sent and received almost instantly.

Other benefits include wider use of high-quality video conferencing and faster back-up of computer systems.

Mr Hughes added: "Local authorities and business organisations are keen to get fibre broadband to as many local homes and businesses as possible and we will offer our help and assistance to make that happen, in tandem with our own plans to boost speeds in general."

Fan struck teen after being hit by bottle while watching game on TV

A MAN who assaulted a teenager after being struck on the head by a plastic bottle while watching a televised football match at a bowling alley in Harlow town centre has been fined and ordered to pay compensation to his victim.

Tottenham Hotspur supporter Hugh Hoad (62), of Green Hills, Harlow, had been watching the Spurs-Bolton FA Cup clash on a screen at First Bowl when he was hit by the bottle.

It had been thrown by the 14-year-old and bounced off another youth in the group.

He reacted by grabbing the boy who had thrown the bottle and slapping his face, prosecutor Angela Hughes told Chelmsford Magistrates Court.

Hoad pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and, was fined £100 with £100 costs and ordered to pay £50 compensation to the youth.

Alan Caldwell, representing Hoad, said in mitigation: "A plastic bottle bounced off him after coming off one of the other youngsters. They had intruded into the bar area and after the bottle was thrown he lost his temper."

He added his client now went elsewhere to watch football matches.

Passing sentence, chairman of the bench Michael Allen said: "It was a silly and reckless thing you did."

The giant paper plane

MOST paper aeroplanes never find their way out of the classroom, but a team of flight enthusiasts took things one step further by launching a gigantic life-size replica in the skies over Arizona.

The 14-metre long plane was lifted into the air by helicopter before being released for its maiden flight.

Weighing in at a hefty 363kg and with a wingspan of 7.3 metres, the plane reached speeds of around 98 miles per hour as it glided through the air before crash-landing less than 10 seconds later.

The project was launched by the Pima Air and Space Museum in Tucson following a paper plane competition run by a local newspaper.

Speaking after the flight, Yvonne Morris, executive director of the museum and the Arizona Aerospace Foundation, told reporters: "The arresting visual of the paper airplane in flight rekindled the childhood creativity in all of us." She added that the stunt was part of a wider project to inspire America's youngsters to pursue careers in the aviation and engineering industries.

Have fun walking AND burn off those unwanted calories

WERE you tempted by all those chocolate treats over the Easter holiday? Are you now feeling guilty and want to shed a few pounds?

If so, then what better way to help relieve that feeling of guilt than to register for the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk!

Organisers hope to attract some 1,350 walkers who will turn the town pink and raise £90,000 for the hospice when they 'do it in the dark' on Saturday, June 16. Hundreds of people - some walking as individuals, others in teams from their workplace or in family groups - have already put their names down for the Star-backed event, which is now in its fifth year.

Walkers will set off from the Water

To register online, visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk/midnight. To be sent a registration form, call (01279) 773750 or email fund@stclarehospice.org.uk

Gardens car park in Harlow town centre at 10.30pm and follow a 10km route which will bring them back to the start.

Tracy Stratford, event fundraiser for St Clare, said: "Walking is a fantastic way to get fit and ready for those summer 'bikini' months.

"Walking 10k could burn over 1,200 calories but while you're chatting away to your friends and getting carried away in the atmosphere of the Midnight Walk you'll barely notice that you are exercising!

"We always have really fun warm-up sessions before the walk, too."

All walkers, even the men, are encouraged to wear pink costumes with flashing bunny ears, T-shirts and wigs prominent in previous years.

Registration costs £15 per person and everyone taking part will receive a Midnight Walk goodie bag.

"Every step you take on the night will be raising money for the hospice," said Tracy. "So please register to support local people today!"

Pair treated after chemical incident

TWO men were treated in hospital following a 'chemical incident' in Harlow on Thursday.

Paramedics from the East of England Ambulance Service were called to the premises of construction firm Ronacrete Ltd in Flex Meadow.

Crews from Harlow and Bishop's Stortford along with a hazardous area response team attended the scene.

Ambulance service spokesman Gary Sanderson said: "We believe two men were taken suddenly unwell whilst working with chemicals.

"Paramedics and HART operatives treated and assessed them at the scene before they were taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital with breathing problems."

Couple guilty of neglecting dog that died of starvation

A COUPLE whose St Bernard dog starved to death have been given suspended prison sentences and banned from keeping any animals for at least five years.

Chelmsford Magistrates' Court heard that a post mortem examination on the emaciated seven-year-old bitch Marley had nothing but bits of rubbish in her stomach.

She had no stores of fat and all her bones were sticking out. She weighed just 32kg and her skin accounted for 20 per cent of her body weight.

The dog's owners - Alan and Nadine Lewis, of Parkfields, Roydon - both pleaded guilty to causing unnecessary suffering to Marley between November 28, 2011 and January 9 2012 by failing to investigate her poor condition.

Stuart Cooper, prosecuting on behalf of the RSPCA, said: "The dog was so hungry she had taken to eating anything. Her stomach contained rubber or plastic, showing the dog had been eating rubbish before her death.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"She died in the owners' garden in an emaciated state consistent with insufficient nutrition over a prolonged period."

Within hours of the court order the couple's other family pet, a Labrador, was due to be taken away for rehoming by the RSPCA despite their lawyer's plea that it would upset their five children.

The court was told the post-mortem carried out by the Royal Veterinary College showed Marley had a benign thyroid tumour which meant she would have been hungrier than normal but would lose weight.

Although the owners might not have realised that, they failed to seek help from a vet or animal specialist about her obvious wasting appearance.

Alan Caldwell, representing Mr and Mrs Lewis, said Mr Lewis had been out of work for eight years and was the principal carer for the family as Mrs Lewis had ongoing post-natal depression.

They were each given an 18-week prison sentence suspended for 12 months.

Mr Lewis was also ordered to complete 150 hours of unpaid work, and his wife was given a 6am-6pm curfew for a month.

Magistrates imposed a disqualification order until further notice banning them from owning or keeping any animals or being involved in having any influence over how any animal was kept.

They said the defendants could only apply to have the ban reviewed after five years.

In addition, the pair, described as "benefits dependent", were ordered to pay £1,000 towards the RSPCA investigation as well as vet and legal costs totalling £2,221.

Passing sentence, chairman of the bench Michael Ferrier said: "This was a severe and prolonged neglect of a dog resulting in its undoubtedly painful death."

Your chance to name police's new recruits

ESSEX Police wants the public's help to name its new recruits.

German shepherd Steffi gave birth to eight puppies last month and six of them have already been given Olympic-themed names - Bolt, Jackson, Daley, Jessica, Seb and Zarato - to celebrate the London Games.

But residents now have the chance to name the remaining two. Members of the public will be able to make their suggestions until noon tomorrow (Friday) after which staff at the dog unit will shortlist their three favourites for both the male puppy and female puppy. The shortlisted names will be put to a public vote via a poll on the Essex Police website on Monday for one week. The winning names will be those with the most votes on April 23. If the winning names have been suggested more than once, the names of everyone who made the suggestions will be put in a hat and chosen at random.

The winners will be invited to Essex Police's dog unit to meet, cuddle and have photographs taken with the puppy they have named.

A full list of competition rules, terms and conditions can be viewed at www.essex.police.uk/puppycomp.

Shop staff egg-sell at raising cash for hospice

STAFF at a Harlow travel agency have raised more than £200 for St Clare Hospice after hosting an Easter fun day on Saturday. They set up a cake stand and book stall outside the Co-operative Travel shop in Church Langley Way and invited customers and passers-by to guess the number of eggs in a jar. They also ran a fundraising colouring competition for children and held a raffle, with all proceeds being donated to the hospice in Hastingwood.

Store manager Christina Miller said: "The day went really well and we were amazed at how many people stopped to donate or buy a cupcake or book."

"St Clare Hospice is a fantastic local charity. They cared for a relative of one of our staff members so we wanted to give something back in appreciation of the amazing work they do."

"We're thrilled to have been able to raise over £200 and would like to thank everyone who stopped to donate."

Join the Players' party for adults-only comedy

THE Sawbridgeworth Players will attempt to negotiate the minefield of office politics, petty differences and hidden desires when they stage John Godber's hilarious comedy The Office Party at Victoria Hall Theatre next week.

Written in 1992 and peppered with the writer's trademark earthy humour, the comic drama explores the complex relationships of seven diverse characters as they prepare for their festive bash.

Set in the offices of Leeds advertising agency Chapman and Howard, the staff are hard at it in the run-up to the Christmas festivities, desperate to win a lucrative new contract.

A new recruit has brought a fresh perspective to the department, along with the resurgence of some rather bad habits on the part of some of the established staff and clients.

It all starts innocently enough after another hectic day at the office, but as the drinks begin to flow and the good times roll, the party – and private lives – soon threaten to get out of hand when underlying tensions rise to the surface, coupled with a photocopier and fax machine working on overdrive.

Strictly for adults only, the play opens its three-night run at Victoria Hall Theatre on Bury Road, Old Harlow at 7.30pm on Thursday. Tickets cost £9 (concessions £8) from 07752 161802.

All-star cast meet up for the graveyard shift

By CHRIS MOSS

A GLORIOUSLY funny new comedy from one of the UK's top touring companies will tickle Playhouse audiences next week as the theatre kicks off its new drama season.

Ian Dickens Productions will be staging three very different dramas over consecutive weeks, starting with a hilarious adaptation of Ivan Menchell's uplifting comedy The Cemetery Club on Wednesday.

The acclaimed play follows a group of well-to-do female friends who visit the local cemetery every month to remember the good times they shared with their late husbands – but find their lives turned upside down when they meet a mysterious male widow.

Lucille fancies herself as a flamboyant swinger, Doris is a stereotypically stoic widow and Ida is somewhere in between, but when the unlikely trio bump into charismatic butcher Sam, it soon becomes clear that things will never be quite the same again.

A razor-sharp comedy with an all-star cast, the play features former Neighbours star Anne Charleston, who played Madge

ANNE CHARLESTON

ANITA HARRIS

SHIRLEY-ANNE FIELD

Bishop in the Aussie soap, Carry On favourite Anita Harris, iconic screen actress Shirley-Anne Field and The Bill's Peter Ellis.

Producer and Director Ian Dickens said: "I am delighted to have this particular cast back, individually they have all worked with me before.

"Rehearsals are going very well, the whole cast have a real chemistry together which shows the play in exactly the right light. It's very funny and poignant."

Tickets cost £15.50 (£13.50 concessions), but theatre-lovers can take advantage of the Playhouse's three-for-two Drama Ticket offer, which gives access to all three plays in the season for the price of two. For more information or to book, call the box office on (01279) 431945 or log on to www.playhouseharlow.com.

Classic fairy story has all ingredients for a musical treat review

Rapunzel
Enchanted Entertainment
Harlow Playhouse

SWEETER than a sackful of Easter eggs, this warm-hearted adaptation of the classic Brothers Grimm fairytale was the perfect family treat.

A sizeable improvement over last Easter's production of Beauty & The Beast, it shied away from that show's panto-style shenanigans and instead presented itself as an original musical.

Rapunzel is kept away from other people by her royal parents, fearful of the mysterious Gothel who tried to take her at birth. When the princess befriends orphan Jo she starts to explore the world outside but is captured by Gothel, who wipes her memory and pretends to be her mother.

Eight years pass during which time Rapunzel's hair has grown and grown, but the witch doesn't count on the resourceful Jo who, with the colourful circus troupe he's joined, fights to free the princess.

Visually the show looked great, with an evocative set, classy costumes and attractive lighting design.

The performances were equally impressive, especially Elyvia Palmer and Matthew Carter as the sparky young Rapunzel and Jo and Nathan Kiley and Rachel Allard as their older selves.

Kiley and Allard had great onstage chemistry, and the moment when Rapunzel convinces Jo to hug a tree had the audience in fits of giggles. This being a musical, the impact of the songs was crucial so hats off to Jez Weatherall for coming up with a number of memorable moments.

However, scenes involving the Cirque Du Nim circus troupe didn't always work and often seemed to slow the pace of the show, although a spectacular showcase at the start of Act Two certainly impressed.

Shortcomings aside, this was a fantastic way to spend Easter – and another feather in the cap for the talented team at Enchanted Entertainment.

Blood flows freely in teens' chiller thriller

THE CABIN IN THE WOODS certificate 15, 1h35m

YOU have to give writer-director Drew Goddard full marks for effort. With tongue wedged firmly in cheek, he lampoons hoary clichés and attempts to reinvigorate the horror genre with this tale of college kids in peril.

Not since poor Drew Barrymore answered a crank call in Scream has a film exploited stereotypes with such lip-smacking glee and subverted our expectations at every blood-spattered turn.

Joss Whedon, creator of the Buffy

The Vampire Slayer television series, co-wrote the script and his droll humour percolates throughout, inviting us to become whooping, cheering voyeurs as characters meet a grisly demise.

Bookish college student Dana (Kristen Connolly) is looking forward to a jaunt into the great outdoors with blonde friend Jules (Anna Hutchison) and her jock boyfriend Curt (Chris Hemsworth), and bong-smoking slacker Marty (Fran Kranz).

Curt invites along his shy and sensitive buddy Holden (Jesse Williams) and the five thrillseekers head into the mountains to a remote log cabin.

Meanwhile, deep within an underground bunker, scientist Richard Sitterson (Richard Jenkins) and Steve Hadley (Bradley Whitford) stare at a bank of CCTV screens which seem to be following the progress of the students towards the cabin.

They invite the rest of the team to bet on the quintet's chances of survival but new guy Truman (Brian White) resists.

Plot twists are the key selling point of The Cabin In The Woods and the big reveal in the closing minutes is a humdinger, including a cameo from a big name Hollywood star who clearly relishes their five minutes in the spotlight.

Yet for all of its audacity and deliciously off-kilter humour, the various elements don't gel seamlessly and once the writers' grand plan is laid out before us, we feel slightly underwhelmed.

The young cast embrace their genre archetypes, screaming or disrobing on cue, while Kranz plays his role with aplomb.

At certain points Goddard probably gives us too much information but the crescendo certainly doesn't skimp on the digital effects or blood letting. Goddard knows how to end with an almighty bang.

TITANIC 3D To coincide with the centenary of Titanic's ill-fated maiden voyage, James Cameron has revisited his masterpiece and lovingly converted it to 3D. The film begins deep underwater with Brock Lovett (Bill Paxton) and his team of hi-tech treasure hunters scouring the submerged wreck. The search comes to naught until Brock meets 101-year-old survivor Rose DeWitt Bukater (Gloria Stuart). Staring transfixed at a sketch of her younger self, Rose recalls her burgeoning romance with spirited artist Jack Dawson (DiCaprio) aboard the eponymous luxury liner. Her jealous fiancé Cal Hockley (Billy Zane) schemes to drive a wedge between the sweethearts with the help of his valet Spicer Lovejoy (David Warner) and Rose's snobbish, money-oriented mother (Frances Fisher). Fate intervenes and passengers of all classes fight for their lives as the ship meets its doom.

THE PIRATES! IN AN ADVENTURE WITH SCIENTISTS The Pirate Captain (Hugh Grant) and his bungling group of seadogs - Pirate with Scarf (Martin Freeman), Pirate with Gout (Brendan Gleeson), Albino Pirate (Russell Tovey) and Surprisingly Curvaceous Pirate (Ashley Jensen) - are a laughing stock. Determined to prove he has what it takes to fly the Jolly Roger, The Pirate Captain sets out to capture a Bank of England treasure ship but inadvertently storms The Beagle and captures a young Charles Darwin (David Tennant) who leads the crew on a merry dance that might just end with the beleaguered Captain taking home the coveted Pirate Of The Year prize. But first they must venture to London without being spotted by Queen Victoria, who has declared war on all pirates who dare to sail around Britain's waters.

THE HUNGER GAMES In a post-apocalyptic future, North America lies in ruins. In its place stands the autocratic nation of Panem, comprising the wealthy Capitol and 12 surrounding, poorer districts controlled by President Snow (Donald Sutherland). Every year, one boy and one girl are selected by lottery from each district to take part in The Hunger Games, a televised fight to the death. Katniss Everdeen (Jennifer Lawrence) replaces her younger sister Primrose (Willow Shields) as the female representative from District 12, competing alongside baker's son Peeta Mellark (Josh Hutcherson). Their alcohol-sodden mentor Haymitch Abernathy (Woody Harrelson) prepares the youngsters for competition against the other teenagers in a brutal and bloody test of strength and endurance.

WRATH OF THE TITANS Perseus (Sam Worthington) returns to his fishing village with his young son, hoping to put his monster-slaying days behind him. But war looms because the humans have neglected the gods, weakening brothers Zeus (Liam Neeson), Hades (Ralph Fiennes) and Poseidon (Danny Huston). Consequently, the imprisoned Titans led by the gods' banished father Kronos are gaining in strength and will soon escape the cavernous dungeon prison of Tartarus. Zeus is betrayed by Hades and his godly son Ares (Edgar Ramirez), who have forged a pact with Kronos to retain their immortality once hell is unleashed upon the Earth. So Perseus answers the call to arms to rescue Zeus, slaying a menagerie of terrifying beasts with the help of feisty Queen Andromeda (Rosamund Pike) and Poseidon's demi-god offspring, Agenor (Toby Kebbell).

MIRROR MIRROR When the King (Sean Bean) is presumed dead, his second wife Queen Clementianna (Julia Roberts), seizes the throne and banishes her teenage stepdaughter Snow White (Lily Collins) to the forest where the young lady will be easy pickings for the carnivorous beast that lives in the trees. Unbeknown to the Queen, Snow White is rescued by seven plucky dwarves - Napoleon (Jordan Prentice), Butcher (Martin Klebba), Chuckles (Ronald Lee Clark), Grimm (Danny Woodburn), Grub (Joe Gnonoff), Half Pint (Mark Povinelli) and Wolf (Sebastian Saraceno) - who teach her to fend for herself. Armed with her favourite dagger, Snow White returns to the court to reclaim the throne, banish the Queen and win the heart of Prince Alcott (Armie Hammer).

So the young men criss-cross Europe, seeking out the most imaginative, daring and supple performers to fill the ranks of their ramshackle squad.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
The Full Moon this week occurs in your opposite sign of Aries. This suggests that you may encounter some objections this week, or a plan may not exactly go to... well, plan. The good news is that Uranus sparks brilliantly with Venus suggesting that even if one situation or person falls by the wayside, an intriguing alternative can emerge. Call for more advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
You might find something in your wardrobe that you previously didn't like and decide that it's really nice. Then again, an old item you no longer use could turn out to be more valuable. At work however, someone's pleasantness may disguise their nit-picking. Concentrate and don't give anyone any reason to criticize you. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Venus in your sign can see you at your charismatic best, and as it angles with Uranus all this week, there can be lots of delightful and flirty possibilities, some of which can surprise. This can also see you surf lots of different social scenes, with consummate ease, and you stand a good chance of making some interesting new friends. Call me for your love scope in full...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Work requires commitment, and personal needs may drift. Yet you can find yourself enjoying spurts of energy and motivation, but your mind can wander to faraway places or to more fascinating possibilities. You can also bump into or hear from someone that you haven't seen for a long time, and a reunion can see you catching up. Call for more news...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
A day trip, outing or even a vacation can be planned with some friends. The explorer in you is aroused, and getting away from daily routines can be very appealing. Even your choices of location can be different. But when it comes to agreeing who pays for what, get it all written down Leo. Financial plans remain somewhat hazy. Call for your financial scope in full...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
For just one more week, Mars in your sign is in reverse motion. It also continues its tricky opposition to Neptune. All this can see some of your plans ebb as much as flow, but professionally and financially things can open up for you very rapidly. Because you can be cautious, don't let this pulverize your optimism. Be ready to act. Call me for more advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
Your ruler is electrified by the enlivening influence of Uranus, for the whole of this week. Expect some random events to happen, but ones that can soon have you smiling. If you are solo, new interest can come about in the most unexpected of ways. Yet if you feel a tie has run its course, the Full Moon suggests you may bail out. Call for your love scope in full...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 23
You might find yourself uncertain about some issues. Your ruler Mars is being drained by the watery influence of Neptune, which doesn't help, but equally all sorts of insecurities can come up which have lain dormant. If you feel drained, cut yourself some slack and take a break. An imaginative idea can though have real merit. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Some of the best things that happen are those we least expect. You can expect some random events to brighten your world this week. But the Full Moon suggests that time management may be harder. Somewhere along the line you will need to decide on your priorities. If you don't, you will find it hard to keep up with all that is expected of you. Call for more news...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Your thoughts can be fluid, and people are used to you being the solid citizen and may be surprised that you are evolving and exploring new strands. Yet there can be worldly demands you have less control of. Outside pressures can make your home or emotional life less set. Yet an alteration could turn out really well, given time. Call for more news and advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Socially, your lively mind and affectionate and non-judgemental attitude can see you the one people want to spend time with. Yet if you're travelling, applying for a course, or agreeing any kind of deal, you can't be too cavalier. There is a tremendous buzz around you, but this is the time to slow things down. Be as considered as possible. Call for more astral advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
The Full Moon asks you to balance your books, but the lovely thing about this week is that, if you are looking to create new income streams, there is a very good chance you can. Your home or family seem to feature in this - or will you offer a service to people in your locality, which can create extra value to their existence? It's possible. Call for your financial scope...

How Many Should I See?

When looking for a property, it is natural to want to see as many as possible before making the "right" choice and common sense dictates that a handful of alternatives should be viewed before buying.

Our job as professional estate agents is to help buyers make decisions that are genuinely in their best interests, which, without our assistance, they might have had difficulty making. So here are some pointers for those buyers who might be struggling to balance the merits of No.33 with its new kitchen against No.16, with the better garden.

First, there is a place for instinct and sometimes the heart should be allowed to influence, if not rule, the head. This is a home after all and not a stock-market share. Ask yourself the obvious question, "Could I be happy here?"

However, sometimes you need your head to agree with your heart. Is your favoured property a significant improvement on where you already live, or are you just being bowled over by a smart exterior or fashionable lighting?

Weigh up the important aspects of life commuting time, school run, parking, entertaining space (although do you really entertain that much?) Satisfy these first before allowing the view or the extra storage space to sway you away from your reason for moving.

Finally, you can bet your bottom dollar that if you instinctively like a particular house, other buyers will as well. We usually find that a property that fills most people's basic needs, as opposed to their wants, will sell very quickly. The more you see, the more difficult it becomes to make a decision at all. So our advice is: decide your minimum criteria with your head and once these are satisfied in a property, let your heart take it from there. Happy hunting!

MORTGAGE MARKET UPDATE

As we remain gripped by a poor economic outlook interest rates are expected to stay at their present levels for another 18-24 months, this has prompted several lenders to increase their Standard Variable Rates, for example Halifax from 3.50% to 3.99%. If you've been affected by this or any of the other lenders that have followed suit, Nat West, RBS, Bank of Ireland, please feel free to contact us with any questions or concerns.

Small car with big ambitions

By Iain Dooley

SMALL cars are now a big deal as buyers seek to save money and not battle with parking in our increasingly crowded cities.

A new wave of small cars boasting big car refinement and road manners has done much to change the urban motoring landscape for the better.

Cars from the likes of Kia, Hyundai, Ford, Renault, Peugeot, Citroen and Toyota make up the bulk of what's available. Missing someone? Noticeable by its absence from that list is Volkswagen, which is odd considering it has what seems like a model in every other class.

However, along with family members Skoda and Seat, Volkswagen has finally entered the fray with its amusingly named up! And yes, for all you sticklers for correct English, the name isn't a typo.

Granted, with its many rivals now well established in this fiercely competitive market, the need to produce something that is more than just edgy and down with the kids is important. And having broken the ice with its three-door model, does the five-door up! stack up? The short answer is yes, especially as the diminutive Volkswagen is only 3.5m long. Launched initially in city car-friendly three-door form, the up!'s modest footprint offers buyers the ability to zip in and out of traffic with the minimum of fuss.

Crucially, though, there's no hint of compromise regarding the ownership experience. The up! is a small car but it shares all the refinement and quality attributes of a Volkswagen. And that's a crucial difference separating the up! from its rivals.

So, three doors good, five doors better? Volkswagen would certainly like you to think so, especially if you're seeking some extra versatility when carrying passengers. The traditional three-door format is a popular one in city motoring circles, but those extra two doors can make the difference if you've got a small family, for instance.

The up! is a premium piece of kit. The compact and lightweight platform is powered by an impressively advanced 1.0-litre, three-cylinder petrol engine, available in two states of tune (60hp and 75hp). This is no gruff, underpowered lump, either. Motorway cruising is big car quiet and there's plenty of oomph for the traffic light grand prix.

Factor in a slick five-speed manual gearbox, the option of an clutchless manual box that, admittedly, takes a little getting used to and suspension that soaks up the bumps in a way that would many family saloons blush with embarrassment, and the up!'s polished and mature character is nothing short of astounding given its size and asking price.

Okay, so it's fair to say that Volkswagen has nailed the driving experience good and proper. And while you might not consider yourself a keen wheelsmith, you'll appreciate the Golf-like sophisticated ride quality if you spend a lot of time doing battle on poorly surfaced urban roads.

It's clear that, from behind the wheel, the five-door up! is the real deal and the practical benefits of those two extra doors are genuine, too. Volkswagen boasts of comparable head and legroom for rear seat occupants as the three-door car and, if sat behind a driver or passenger of average height, there's little reason to doubt this. In fact, once inside, the experience is a pleasant one, making it great for accommodating that hypothetical new family.

Also, such performance elevates the five-door up! above the usual 'only good for giving friends trips to the local pub' description as there's enough space for two grown-ups in the light and airy cabin and it never feels like a compromise.

Aside from the extra two doors, this up! shares the same trim levels and kit of its three-door cousin, which includes solid-feeling switchgear, legible instruments, a quality audio unit plus the likes of air-con, remote central locking, parking sensors, MP3 player and Bluetooth phone connections, integrated portable sat-nav and a sunroof, depending on the model chosen.

A small car with big ambitions, the five-door up! delivers the same smile-inducing driving experience as the three-door model while the inclusion of those two extra doors adds a welcome extra layer to the ownership experience and is proof that Volkswagen is back in the small car game.

Motorsales (Harlow) Ltd, named amongst UK's top 100 garages

Motor Codes, the provider of OFT-approved codes of practice for car service and repair and new car sales, has revealed the nation's 100 most trusted garages, following six weeks of voting by thousands of motorists and Harlow-based Motorsales has made the cut.

Championing the UK's best businesses and helping motorists find the most reliable garages, Motor Codes has let the public do the talking, inviting satisfied customers to nominate their local garage through its annual Garage of the Year contest, brought to you by Havoline.

Thousands have voted in the campaign to highlight those car service centres that provide dependable service and the shortlists can be found online at www.garageoftheyear.co.uk, where customers of the top 100 can continue voting to help select the regional winners.

Jo-Ann Tinson of Motorsales (Harlow) Ltd was proud to be named as one of the UK's most trusted garages, "This is fantastic news for us because it's recognition by the people that matter most - our customers. Motorists across the UK would be well-advised to look at the Garage of the Year results and use the online Motor Codes garage finder to seek out garages that provide first-rate customer service."

Chris Mason, managing director at Motor Codes points out the serious side of the competition, "The main purpose of Motor Codes is to point motorists in the direction of responsible businesses, committed to our transparent customer service guidelines. We want people to be able to choose where to trust their car with confidence and what better way to make people aware of consistently good businesses than letting customers shout about the good guys?"

Motor Codes has subscribers across the whole of the UK, ranging from small independent workshops to the largest main dealers and consumers are able to search from almost 7,000 Motor Codes garages using an online garage finder at www.motorcodes.co.uk.

Reflecting the diversity of garages signed up to Motor Codes, the shortlisted finalists in the Garage of the Year competition are split by business size, with entrants battling it out to take the prize of best small and large garage.

Summing up the Motor Codes ethos and acknowledging the benefit Motor Codes offers, consumer editor of What Car? magazine and member of the Garage of the Year judging panel, Emma Butcher says, "Through Motor Codes, with its OFT-approved guidelines and support service, the public has access to a nationwide network of garages that are effectively government-backed. This offers motorists a safety net and helps remove anxiety when choosing a garage."

Voting continues for customers of the top 100 garages, closing on 22 April after which the judges will select the overall winners.

Motorists voting in the competition are in with a chance of winning a year's free servicing, worth up to £1,000 and tickets to the British Grand Prix at Silverstone.

Scrap

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Regulation 4 Infrastructure Planning (Applications: Prescribed Forms and Procedure) Regulations 2009 Development Consent Order at Ratty's Lane, Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire

NOTICE PUBLICISING A PROPOSED APPLICATION FOR A DEVELOPMENTAL CONSENT ORDER ("DCO")

Notice is hereby given that Veolia Environmental Services (UK) Plc (the "Applicant") of 8th Floor, 210 Pentonville Road, London, N1 9JY intends to apply to the Secretary of State under section 37 of The Planning Act 2008 for the above-mentioned DCO (the "Application").

The Application refers to the construction and operation of the Fieldes Lock Power Station and associated development to be constructed at Ratty's Lane, Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire (the "Project").

The Application will include authorisation for the following elements:

1. Construction and operation of a rail-linked power station with an average electrical output of in excess of 50 MW. The power station will generate electricity from a combination of natural gas and solid recovered fuel and/or similar residual waste. The facility will comprise storage bunkers, two combustion processing lines, a boiler hall, a turbine hall and an associated air pollution control system.

2. Provision of:
 - a. Ancillary or associated plant, equipment and buildings to accommodate the Project, including infrastructure to receive solid recovered fuel and similar residual waste fuel by rail and road;
 - b. Modifications to the existing rail sidings to incorporate the movement, unloading, loading and storage of material transport containers;
 - c. Electricity and gas grid connection infrastructure (including substation and underground cabling);
 - d. Foul water sewer connection and surface water outfall;
 - e. Site access to the power station from Ratty's Lane;
 - f. Internal site roads and vehicle parking;
 - g. Landscaping and habitat creation with related fencing or boundary treatments;
 - h. Administrative offices to be located within the power station; and
 - i. The demolition of the existing structures on the site.

3. The permanent and/or temporary compulsory acquisition of land and/or rights for the Project;

4. Overriding of easements and other rights over or affecting land for the Project;

5. Permanent and temporary changes to the highway network for the Project;

6. The application and/or disapplication of legislation relevant to the Project as may be required;

7. Construction and operation of associated development, including, but not limited to, those items listed at paragraph 2 above; and

8. Such ancillary, incidental and consequential provisions, permits, consents, waivers or releases as are necessary and/or convenient for the successful completion of the Project.

The Project constitutes EIA development for the purposes of the Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2009. Therefore, the Applicant has made Preliminary Environmental Information (PEI) available. "I am playing to a very high standard."

Hawks' boss given vote of confidence

AERIAL TUSSE: Harlow Town's Jeff Hammond, right, goes up with an AFC Sudbury defender for the ball

Harlow Town 0, AFC Sudbury 1
Ryman League division one north

HARLOW'S lack of a cutting edge in front of goal cost them dearly as they slipped to a home defeat against fellow play-off hopefuls Sudbury.
Harlow Town enjoyed enough chances to have won Saturday's game but were thwarted by a fine display from Sudbury keeper Danny Gay, who pulled off fine saves from Bertie Brayley and Jeff Hammond before Sudbury took the lead on 35 minutes. James Baker held the ball up well for Russell Pond to shoot home from the edge of the area.

On the hour mark a Dave Cowley free-kick hit the Sudbury crossbar and two minutes later the inspired Gay kept out a shot from Brayley and a fine challenge from Sudbury's Ryan Henshaw blocked the rebound from Cowley.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "We created two or three opportunities in the first 30 minutes but were not clinical enough. We did not test their keeper enough."
HARLOW TOWN: Bossu, Taylor, Deane, Kirby, Haverson, Kilapi (Muguo 77), Cowley, Maxwell, Brayley (Wixon 82), Hammond, Marshall (Elms 73). Subs not used: Dekanski, Wheeler.

Ware 1, Harlow Town 0
Ryman League division one north

HAWKS co-owner Tom Cunningham has said Danny Chapman will stay as the club's manager next season, writes David Rimmer.

Chapman guided Harlow Town to the Ryman League play-off semi-finals last year but is highly unlikely to do better this time.
Eighth-placed Hawks are six points adrift of the last play-off spot with just three matches left after a disastrous Easter weekend.

Harlow lost at home to Sudbury on Saturday and then to basement side Ware at Wodson Park on Monday.

Cunningham said: "The chairman [John Barnett] and I are pleased with what Danny has achieved since he took over in January 2011.

"He is the right person to take us up there. You can have an experienced manager with a good CV but he might not be right for this level of football."

Ware's side contained three former Harlow players in striker Jamie Richards, midfielder Ricci Grace and keeper Rhys Madden.

Harlow, without Danny Brown (calf injury) and winger Luke Marshall (knee injury) were dealt a further blow when midfielder Getro Kilapi pulled out after being knocked out in a Sunday league football match.

Chapman fumed: "I have nothing against Sunday football but if you do that you leave yourself open to injury."

"He is paid to play football for Harlow and it shows disrespect. I will take disciplinary action."

Getro's absence resulted in Stanley Muguo coming into central midfield while Chapman rested Jack Haverson and put in debutant Jack Dekanski alongside Ryan Kirby. Daniel Elms came in on the right wing.

Ware were the more inventive side in the first half and had threatened twice before Aime Blessing's shot brought a sharp save from Hawks keeper Bertrand Bossu on 22 minutes.

Ware scored the game's sole goal on 33 minutes. The ball was laid back to Lewis Rolfe who was fouled in the box by Muguo and Jordan Gill converted the penalty.

On 40 minutes Bertie Brayley collected a half-cleared corner and his cross was tipped onto the bar and over by Madden.

Harlow's best chance in the second half came and went on 57 minutes when Cowley set up Hammond whose shot was well blocked by Madden.

Chapman added: "I would like to thank our supporters; they did not deserve that. They [Ware] seemed to want it more than we did."

Harlow host Waltham Forest this Saturday and will be without striker Jeff Hammond who is serving the first of a three-match ban.

HARLOW TOWN: Bossu 5, Taylor 5, Deane 5, Kirby 5, Dekanski 5, Maxwell 5, Elms 5 (Wixon 65), Muguo 4, Brayley 4 (Dobson 85), Hammond 4, Cowley 4. Subs not used: Wheeler, Haverson.
Attendance 123.

Rams pray for a miracle as promotion hopes rest on the results of two games

HARLOW Rugby Club's first team will be missing two experienced players when they round off their RFU London division three north east programme with an important clash at East London this Saturday.

The Rams will be still be without fly-half Michael Dobson (leg injury and skipper Shaun Roberts (family commitment).

Forward Paul Eynon may take over the captaincy and Danny Smith will continue to deputise for Dobson.

Harlow are in third spot and two points behind second placed Stowmarket who play lowly Wymondham at home in two days time.

If there is a surprise and Stowmarket lose while Harlow win, the Rams will claim the second promotion spot.

Irrespective of what happens at Stowmarket, Harlow's task is not easy. East London are ninth in the 12-team division but have won four of their last five games.

Rams coach Lee Harron holds out no hope for a Wymondham win but is determined that his side finish well.

He said: "We want to do ourselves justice and finish on a high."

"We beat East London [by 38-0] in the first game of the season but it will not be easy by any stretch of the imagination."

Harlow are keen to get promotion after suffering relegation at the end of last season but the odds are against them doing so.
